DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

- 1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - Claims 1-49 and 74-84, drawn to a method and an apparatus of a delay locked loop (DLL), classified in class 327, subclass 158.
  - II. Claims 50-73, drawn to a memory device having a DLL, classified in class365, subclass 194.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions II and I are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the memory device does not require a particular DLL circuit as recited in claims 1-49 and 74-84, Group I. The subcombination has separate utility such as that DLL circuit can be used in other circuit like communication device or transmission or receiver circuit.

4. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
